NAVIGATING LIFE with an Early Onset Alzheimer's Diagnosis

Wednesday, April 23 | Noon

Alzheimer's disease most commonly affects older adults, but it can also affect individuals in their 40s or 50s. When Alzheimer's disease happens in someone younger than age 65, it's known as early onset/younger onset Alzheimer's disease.

During this webinar, we will provide an overview of early onset Alzheimer's disease, discuss care navigation and share lived-experiences with a diagnosis.
